

LAW Conference Motion submissions – from Pete Gregson

LAW support to activists

We call upon LAW to assist those unfairly targeted by either Labour, trade union or other public body over anti-Semitism charges by the following means. It will:

1. give advice to those to those under investigation
2. suggest friendly lawyers who could help
3. invite people to notify LAW on a confidential basis if they have been accused of anti-Semitism by any organisation they are in or employed by, so that LAW might collate statistics as to how many are being accused and what for. Thence for the LAW steering committee to ascertain if they think the individual has engaged in anti-Semitism or not using the OED definition, which may involve some small debate between the individual concerned and LAW. If LAW are satisfied the individual is being investigated but have not said or done anything that is anti-Semitic, then that individual should join LAW's database of those who have been "witch-hunted". LAW's database of witch-hunted individuals should be able to sort individuals according to
  - a) organisation (so LAW can see which bodies are doing the most witch-hunting)
  - b) IHRA definition victims

If those charged want the world to know they are being unfairly investigated, LAW to publish a gallery of those who are victims of the anti-Semitism witch-hunt

4. help with fundraisers for those with heavy court costs (ie the person who needs the cash does the fundraising. All LAW might do is help them publicise it, or ask Alexei Sayle to do a 5-minute comedy spot or ask Ken Loach to show up, etc)
5. encourage CLPs and union branches to pass motions condemning the IHRA
